Have you ever been told that you have a great, bright and beautiful voice? Have you ever been notified that you should be on the radio? You may be a born voice actor. It is high time that you use your talent and skill to generate some amounts of money. Follow the steps given in the checklist below to start your journey:

Analyze yourself

- 1 Start by analyzing yourself and your abilities. Ask yourself a number of questions and answer them.
- 2 Ask yourself if you have what it takes to become a voice-over artist?
- 3 Ponder over if you can imitate the different voices around you?
- 4 Choose the gig you want to work on.
- 5 Carry out research and analyze your interests. See if you want to do voice-overs for cartoons or movies or children's audiobooks.
